Lirica n. 128

Bring me the sunset in a cup, Reckon the morning's flagon's up
And say how many Dew, Tell me how far the morning leaps - Tell me what time the weaver sleeps Who spun the breadths of blue!

Write me how many notes there be In the new Robin's ecstasy Among astonished boughs - How many trips the Tortoise makes - How many cups the Bee partakes, The Debauchee of Dews!

Also, who laid the Rainbow's piers,
Also, who leads the docile spheres
By withes of supple blue?
Whose fingers string the stalactite - Who counts the wampum of the night
To see that none is due?

Who built this little Alban House And shut the windows down so close My spirit cannot see?
Who'll let me out some gala day
With implements to fly away, Passing Pomposity?

Portami il tramonto in una coppa fa' il conto dei calici del mattino e diimi quant'è la rugiada - dimmi a che distanza il mattino balzi - dimmi a che ora dorma la filatrice che tessè gli spazi blu!

Scrivi quante note ci sono nell'estasi del nuovo pettirosso fra i rami meravigliati - quanti viaggi compia la tartaruga - quante fiale beva l'ape, La Dissoluta di rugiade!

E poi, chi ha disposto i ponti dell'arcobaleno, e poi, chi conduce le sfere docili con vimini di morbido blu?
Che dita intrecciano la stalattite - chi conta le perline della notte per accertare che non ne manchi nessuna?

Chi costruì questa Bianca Casetta e serrò tanto bene le finestre da impedire al mio spirito di vedere?
Chi mi farà uscire un giorno di gala con gli strumenti per volare via, oltre ogni magnificenza?

(Emily Dickinson)
